Terryingitup
BROADCASTING ACADEMY

Benjamin Cure and Mr. Alex Rodriguez.

It's around this time of year, Spring, when we start to realize that there's a few months left before we start to scramble about what our kids can do during the summer. Teens may just want to try something fun and different and our young ones may be looking for something new to try out. Terryingitup, a broadcasting academy, is the new creation of one mom that has been doing all she can to show her son how to persevere in school, sports and most of all, in life! Many of her conversations with her son, on the way to and from school, throughout the years have included words like perseverance, hustle, determination, routine, discipline, hard work, commitment, grit, energy, focus and of course passion!

Benjamin Cure interviews Nicolas, catcher for the Tornadoes baseball team

& only, Mr. Alex Rodriguez. Benjamin interviewed him at just 13 and as you hear that was just the beginning.

Mother & son never imagined that all the back and forth talk about sportscasting, player injuries, fantasy football & wins versus losses would become more than just conversations. This passion combined with Benjamin covering sports for his school and doing play by play gave them an idea! They noticed that something was missing from their neighborhood park, and it wasn't the kids or the games. For decades, little league baseball and flag football players have been tearing it up, in their cleets, sort of speak at Palmer park in South Miami. But after the coaches, players, abuelitas, abuelitos, nana's and siblings are long gone, so was the action. Thats when the idea of Terryingitup, was created. Terry shared her idea with Omar, the president of the South Miami Youth Baseball & Football League and as they say the rest is history. He saw her vision and agreed that many of the kids that play have siblings that frequently hang out at the park and might be interested in covering sports, if their not playing!

After a long time of thinking and talking about it, the academy is open and accepting students! Kids can expect to get some hands on journalism experience right on the playing field while teams are practicing and especially during games. Terryingitup will be teaching boys and girls, young and teens, everything they need to know from interviewing skills to how to call a game and may even help your shy ones with their public speaking skills. Guest speakers from the broadcasting industry are also lined up to visit! All Sports junkies and non-sports junkies are asked to enroll! Just go to www.terryingitup.com for all the details of how you can sign up to join the classes offered afterschool, all year round and summer sessions too! Or if your just looking to become a counselor, intern or sponsor you can also sign up!

It seems that Terry is doing all the right things, a former journalist and the owner of a communications company, she has been helping her son turn his passion broadcasting, into a career. Most recently he was featured on Miami Heat's LIVE kidcaster day alongside Mr. Eric Reid and Mr. Tony Fiorentino. Some notable highlights include having interviewed New York Yankee and President of Arod Corp, turned broadcaster himself, the one

Dr. Gigi De Villiers and Coach Luis De Villiers

In 2009, Luis and Gigi opened Schoolhouse Preparatory. This is first high school in Dade County designed for students with learning differences seeking a standard diploma. The high school has successfully transitioned their graduates to colleges across the nation with full scholarships and prepared them for life after high school. Dr. Gigi and Coach Luis both experienced firsthand the challenges that students with special needs face as they transition into adulthood, as well as the limited options that their parents have. Following their passion for making the difference in the lives of children, they fulfilled their dream of establishing a high school that meets the academic, social, and emotional needs of young adults, as well as support for their families. Their lives have been touched by every child and parent they've met along this journey. They've shared tears of pain, and tears of celebration when simple milestones that mean so much have been achieved.

Here's some of their responses during our interview.

When did you open Schoolhouse?

Schoolhouse Prep opened its doors in 2009. We realized that there was a great need for a school that serviced students who needed a smaller and personalized approach to education.

from other private schools in Miami?

We are a small school that gets big results. Our classes have a maximum size of 10 students per teacher. Education is completely hands on and each student receives the personalized attention they need. We have a strong sense of family and instill core values in our students. We are a second home to our students. We provide career internships beginning in 9th grade which allows our students to develop strong community ties as well as gain a better understanding of the career path they want to follow. We have a 100% graduation rate as well as a 100% placement in college. We also have a lot of diversity for being a small school and represent 9 different countries from Europe, south America and the Caribbean.

Tell us about your School Mascot and how it represents the culture of your school.

We are the home of the Wolfpack. Unlike most schools, our mascot represents a group. Like the Wolfpack, we stick together and never leave anyone behind. Our pack consists of persons with different talents and challenges. But we all take care of each other and make sure that together, we go far as a Pack.

How do you as principal like to engage with your students?

I know each and everyone of my students and their parents by name. I always have an open-door policy and students know they can come to me with any concern they may have. They see me as a 2nd mom as I have a tough love approach to dealing with them. We are a fun school with a lot of school spirit. At Schoolhouse, there is always an event, activity, or after school programs going on that keep our students engaged.

Coach Luis – tell us about the Athletics program.

Our Athletics program began 5 years ago and has evolved into a competitive program. We are members of the FHSA and form part of Division 2A. We offer Bowling, Boys Basketball, Cheerleading and hope to add soccer next year. Our Boys Basketball program is very competitive and we were the Runner Up in the Regional Finals for district 2A in Florida!

What Universities are your athletes at now?

Our Alumni are playing collegiate level Basketball at Davis College, LaSalle, Colby Sawyer and Florida National University. We are proud that these students received full academic scholarships for maintaining a GPA over a 3.5 while competing in varsity athletics.

How do you prepare students for colleges?

We prepare them both Academically and Emotionally. We hold them to higher standards and teach them that in the real world there are no excuses. We also Teach them the importance of work ethic. At school we offer a challenging curriculum with the opportunity of taking dual enrollment classes. We also prepare them for the SAT and ACT exams.

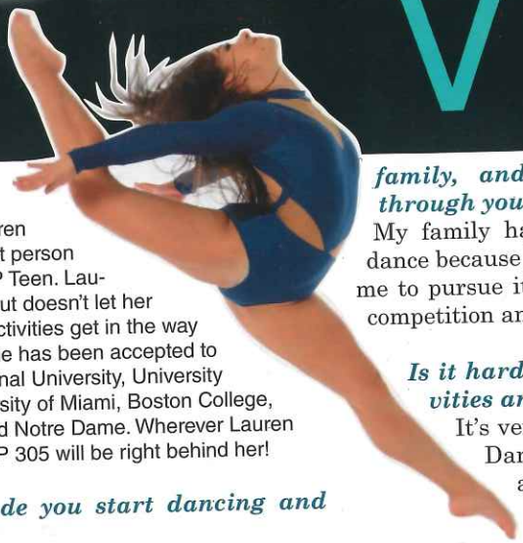

our VIP TEEN

Lauren Vera

A current senior at St. Brendan High School, Lauren Vera is the perfect person to be our next VIP Teen. Lauren is a dancer but doesn't let her extra-curricular activities get in the way of her studies. She has been accepted to Florida International University, University of Florida, University of Miami, Boston College, John Hopkins and Notre Dame. Wherever Lauren decides to go, VIP 305 will be right behind her!

So what made you start dancing and cheering?

I started dancing when I was just three years old. My mom put on my first pair of tap shoes and all I remember is heel-toe walking all the way home and after that i fell in love.

For how long have you been dancing?

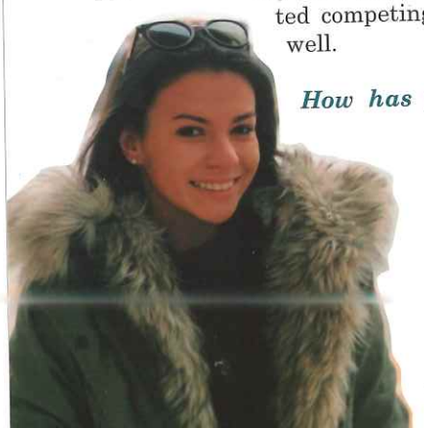

Ive been dancing for 15 years and have been competiting with dance for 7 years.

How does the whole season for dance go?

My dance season starts in august with a two-week long intensive. During this intensive we begin a few of our competition dances and work on technique and skills. The next few months are spent perfecting our dances and taking classes regularly. When Januarary comes around we intensify our rehearsal schedule and get ready for our first competition. We attend 3-4 regional competitions and have a nationals in the summer every other year.

What is it that keeps giving you the drive to keep on going?

One thing that really keeps me going in my genuine love for dance. It's a way to release stress, even though it causes it sometimes. I have made some of my best friends through dancing and I also want to be a role model for my little sister who has started competing in dance as well.

How has your school, family, and friends supported you through your career?

My family has always supported me in dance because know that I love it and want me to pursue it. My parents come to every competition and always cheer me on.

Is it hard to ballance all your activities and school?

It's very hard but I have managed. Dance takes up a lot of my time as well as school so it is a little crazy to balance it all but it's worth it.

Give us an example of a crazy day full of practice and homework that you would always rememberer?

Almost everyday is a crazy combination of both but it gets more intense before competition. I have a competition this weekend with my studio which means extra practices. So this week on tuesday after ending school at 2:30 I went straight to sabrette practice from 3:00-4:30 and straight from there I drove to my studio to rehearse from 5:00-9:30. I got home around 10:15 after stopping to get starbucks because I knew I would be up all night studying for 3 exams the next day.

If you can rearrange your schedule to fit you what you have to do everyday how would it be? Do you ever have time to go out and hangout with friends? Tell us how.

I have a lot of time to go out with friends. I don't have dance on saturdays unless competitions are coming up so I do have a free day.

How grateful are you for your family supporting you through your career?

My family has supported me in everything I have ever done. Whether it be dance or school, as long as I have the drive to do it and I have the passion they will whole heartedly support me which is an amazing feeling.

Do you see yourself going anywhere in the dance world in the future?

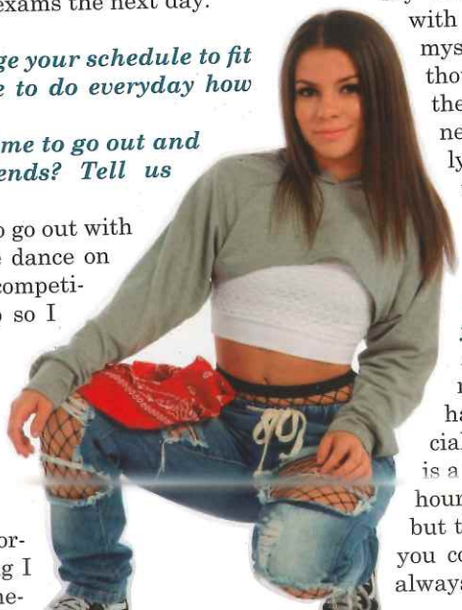

As much as dance has played a role in my life I don't necessarily see my self taking dance on as a career but I do want to stay involved in the dance world as I get older.

We understand that your are a senior so tell us what College of University you will be attending and what would you be studying?

I am not sure what University I will be attending yet; although I have been accepted to UM and UF but I am still waiting for decisions from the rest of my schools. I plan to major in neuroscience and minor in religious studies and latin studies while being on a pre-med track.

What is your ultimate goal in life?

My ultimate goal is to live a life with no regrets. I want to push myself to do things I never thought possible. Hopefully in the future I'll be a successful neurosurgeon with a big family who has traveled and seen the world.

If you had to tell a young dancer who is thinking of giving up, what would you tell them?

As hard as it may seem right now, giving up will only be harder. Dance is such a special way to express yourself that is a huge privileage to have. The hours are long and exhausting but the rewards beyond anything you could ask for. Once a dancer always a dancer.

Belen student honored for selfless service

Belen Jesuit senior Andres Dones has received the 2018 Youth Virtues, Valor and Vision Award from the National Catholic Education Association for selfless service, determination, innovation and ideals that are changing the world.

Andres was chosen from more than 1.9 million Catholic school students across the country. He was presented with the prestigious NCEA Medal of Honor and Certificate at Belen Jesuit March 12, during the high school's Ignatian Week.

"This young man by his work, by his vision, by his faith and his ability to make a difference in the lives of those less fortunate has become an agent of change in the world around him," said Heather Gossart of the NCEA. "We are so very proud of this young man and his achievements. We congratulate his family, church, school and his teachers for supporting and enabling his vision and ambition for doing good."

Spurred by his little brother Alejandro's pain and his own longtime cinematic interest, Andres created a film entitled "Project SHIELD: Siblings Help Inform and Educate Everyone About Living with Disabilities."Alejandro, 14, has hemophilia and other physical and learning disabilities, and was often ignored and excluded by his peers.

After three years of planning and labor, the film - his first - premiered with a splash, winning a 2017 Suncoast Student Production Award for Long Form Nonfiction from the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. The film features Andres and Alejandro as well as three other youths and their siblings with conditions ranging from Down syndrome to cerebral palsy. The interviewees express profound family love and discuss common themes such as how their siblings want to be treated normally and have friends just like everyone else.

"As an educator for over 30 years, I have seen many excellent students and Andres is no exception," said Jose E. Roca, Belen principal. "Andres has proven to be an exceptionally generous and caring individual. He has performed community service every year at Belen, and believes strongly in this endeavor. His most profound work has been done through the production of his film. Using this medium, Andres has been able to communicate to his peers at school and the community the importance of reaching out to those who may have some kind of handicap. Through his personal story and the stories of three other families, he has influenced the way we should all interact with those who may be handicapped. These experiences have strengthened Andres's commitment to social justice."

Dones has presented his film at Belen Jesuit, St. Louis Covenant School, Pinecrest; Blessed Trinity School, Miami Springs; St. Thomas the Apostle School, Our Lady of Lourdes Academy, and Christopher Columbus High School, Miami; and Palmetto Middle School

"Navigator Way"

Miami-Dade County Commissioner Javier Souto hosted an unveiling for "Navigator Way" in honor of Saint Brendan Elementary School. The school is named for Saint Brendan of Clonfert, an early Irish monastic known for his many voyages, including his legendary quest to the "Isle of the Blessed" in search of the Garden of Eden. Due to his many journeys, Saint Brendan is often referred to as "the Navigator" or "the Voyager". Subsequently, students and sports teams at Saint Brendan Catholic Elementary School are known as "the Navigators". Also in attendance was Former State Representative, Jose Felix Diaz, whom has long ties to the St. Brendan Community. He was quoted saying "As an alumnus and parent, I was honored to be part of the ceremony. St. Brendan is special because of its amazing staff and because of the love exhibited by the parents who sacrifice for their kids' education." Navigator Way now runs from 32nd Street from SW 87th Avenue to SW 90th.

Entrevista a: Olga Tañon

Por: Camila Valdivieso

En febrero 22, se celebró uno de los premios más importantes de la música en español en la ciudad de Miami "Premio lo Nuestro" VIP 305 tuvo la oportunidad de entrevistar a la maravillosa "Olga Tañon, La mujer de fuego" La cual recibió un reconocimiento especial por su trayectoria en la música y nuevamente nos demostró que no solamente es espectacular en el escenario sino que es increíblemente maravillosa como ser humano. Nuestra reportera de farándula Camila Valdivieso quedó asombrada de la sencillez de la artista, sintiéndose muy cómoda para poder realizar una excelente entrevista.

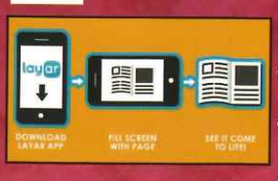

Mientras esperábamos a Olga que terminará su ensayo en el escenario, tuvimos la la suerte de ver y compartir con algunos de los artistas más reconocidos de esta época, entre ellos J. Balbin, Maluma, Bad Bunny, Leslie Grace, Chino Miranda y muchos otros.

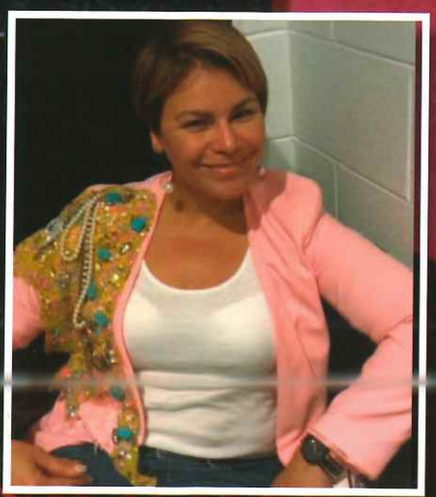

No te olvides bajar la aplicación "LAYAR" y escanear esta página de la revista la cual te llevará a disfrutar de la estupenda entrevista que le hizo Camila a Olga Tañon. También podrás disfrutar de otros vídeos desde nuestro canal de YouTube.

Kidcaster Day

The Miami Heat invited 5 kidcasters & I was lucky enough to be one of them. Kidcaster Day was a day where kids could broadcast, do in-game analytics, & sit-in with the best of the best. I had a chance to do pre and post game segments along with Play-by-Play with Erik & Tony. It is an experience I will not soon forget.

Odell Beckham Jr.

Odell Beckham Jr. had quite an unlucky season. Starting off with a leg injury pre-season, to returning to a QB who was trying to find his rhythm, OBJ has been plagued with a bad deck-of-cards. He is available for a 1st round pick at least. The teams that could benefit the most from him: the 49ers & the Brown

Dolphins

And if your looking to find out where the dolphins are headed, that's just it, there is no clear direction, no news to share. After loosing Jarvis Landry, the mood around the dolphins has quiet to say the least. With the front office under fire, tensions have slowly been rising in the dolphins organization. Fans aren't sure wether to call this a rebuild or a pure loss. Let's hope the dolphins can make a miracle happen on draft night.

NCAA MARCH MADNESS

Well, a lot has definitely happened in the world of sports since our last issue, so let's try to take it one step at a time.

One of the biggest things happened in the first round when #16 UMBC took down #1 Virginia. Buzzer Beaters and Clutch shots became the norm. At the time of writing this, the final four is set with Villanova as the favorite to win. However, the Cinderella Story has taken the Madness by storm. The #11 Loyola Ramblers have quite a cheering squad, one of the members being Sister Jean Dolores-Schmidt. It seems to be that every time I write on of these articles, a sister is always making headlines.

At 98 years old, Sister Jean is not your average cheerleader. She was loved & known by Ramblers for years as they watched her lead the team in prayer before every game. She didn't come to have national attention until the teams unexpected success in the NCAA March Madness Tournament. It has come to the point where their are bobble heads being sold of Sister Jean for $25.... & trust me, they're selling. Before we go, Sister Jean reminds us to "Worship, work, and win."

Sister Jean

With two games left to go before the championship, we almost have our answer: Who will be this years NCAA Men's Basketball Champion.

IT'S AS CLOSE AS IT GETS TO BEING IN THE FIELD WITH US.

The annual BLUE Cocktail is our biggest event of the year! Enjoy amazing food, open bar, dancing, and this year, an interactive gallery experience that will put you at the forefront of our work.

See what we've accomplished together and start the ripple effect that leads to more impact this coming year. 100% of your ticket cost goes directly to funding clean water and sanitation projects.

Become an Event Sponsor

Donate at one of our sponsorship levels and receive logo recognition, a table for up to 10 of your guests, and make an impact that will continue to touch lives for many years to come.

100% goes directly to funding water and sanitation projects!

HIGHPOINT ACADEMY

100 DAYS OF SCHOOL

SPARTANS ROUND TABLE

As they do each semester, Pace's SGA and Leadership students had the opportunity to speak with the Administration to voice questions and concerns on behalf of the entire student body.

IHEART LATINO AT PACE

Career Day at Pace came to a close with a presentation by the iHeartLatino. Special guests included Andy Pita, Enrique Santos, Frankie P, Alex G, and Carolina Calix.
